Exercise is important in a healthy life. However, spending time and money going to a gym every day doesn't sound easy for everyone. The good news is that now you can work out and enjoy the fun of exercise RIGHT AT HOME. With the help of technology, virtual exercise and classes have gone viral these years. By getting onto the Internet, you can watch the videos on your cellphone or computer right where you are. All you need to do is follow the trainers and make sure you have a space large enough to move around in. There are many kinds of online classes to choose from. Some are about only body stretches. Others are about more difficult exercise. Some are free while others may cost you a lot.

In other words, you can choose your favorite class and try a different one every time. However, as with many kinds of exercise, there are always good things and bad ones. Let's take a look at the real experiences from those virtual exercise users.

Joanna 	I have taken some virtual classes since last year. It's really convenient because I don't need to go to the gym to work out. Exercising at home saves me a lot of time. I can make my own exercise plan and change it anytime. If there isn't a gym near your place, you can give these online classes a try.
Albert 	These virtual exercise classes are not right for me. I enjoy nature a lot and love making friends. Doing exercise alone at home is not interesting at all. When I go hiking in the mountains, I can take in fresh air and share my life with other people. However, I have already paid a lot for those online classes. How can I get my money back?
Mike 	Virtual exercise classes are not new to me. I was too heavy, and my family worried about my health. They pushed me to take online classes and find time to exercise at home. Those virtual exercise classes are fun, and some of them make you feel like you are in a game. They really make exercise less boring. I will keep taking these classes and make myself healthier.

March 31, 2021

This March, three women sent a message on Facebook. “Oh no! We are going to have a toilet paper shortage because we are making more face masks. Stock up now, or it’ll be too late.” Soon the Facebook page got many views and likes, and viewers shared it without checking if the information was true. It became the trending topic on the Internet. There were a lot of people crying, “There is no more toilet paper!” The message made people wonder how this could happen. Until the government explained the raw materials for face masks and toilet papers were different, people realized it was fake. Later, the three women confirmed that they sent the message to make more money. The loss was more than the benefit. Each of them needed to pay NT$30,000 for what they did.

Actually, there are more and more people and companies trying hard to end fake news. Facebook has taken down more than 800 fake news accounts. Google has spent 300 million US dollars cleaning up fake news. But this is not enough. Everyone needs to play a part. Follow the tips below, and you will not only find out the fake information but also stop it from spreading.

1. Read the whole story.
2. Before sharing something on social media, check the date and the source of the news.
3. Ask experts.

Jessie: I haven't eaten anything today, so I'm feeling a little tired.

Amy: Why haven't you eaten anything yet? It's already 11 o'clock in the morning.

Jessie: I am trying to look good for my boyfriend. He says that I am getting too fat. He told me that if I don't lose weight, then he will dump me.

Amy: That is crazy! You look great. You shouldn't let anyone tell you how you should look. Besides, eating nothing could be unhealthy.

Jessie: I know what I am doing. I watched YouTube videos about dieting. If I just eat a little for lunch and a little for dinner, then I can lose weight quickly.

Amy: You can't always trust what you read on the Internet. Jessie, I am your best friend. You can trust me. You need to get rid of your boyfriend as soon as possible. You need to find someone who can respect you. You have to make a choice. Which one is more important: your boyfriend or your health?

Jessie: I understand. But our relationship is so serious. How can I break up with him now? He will be so angry.

Amy: Just tell him that you are unhappy as his girlfriend, and you don't want to be with him anymore. Tell him that he is garbage. He doesn't get a choice. Be strong, Jessie.

Jessie: OK. You've talked me into saying goodbye to him. I know what to do now.

Our Hero Passed Away

Our city hero, Bartley, died in his sleep this morning because of getting too old. Bartley, a Labrador dog, gave all his life to special training and rescue missions. “He will be remembered by us forever; I can’t imagine future days without him,” said the leader of the rescue team, Mr. Ronald.

Bartley took part in three rescue missions in total, two earthquakes and one flood in the City of Boulder. During these missions, he tried hard to smell survivors in time, and he barked loudly to tell his teammates. “He was really helpful and hard-working,” said Mr. Ronald.

After working for ten years on the rescue team, Bartley got older and retired from the team. But his keeper, Mrs. Huang, still took him to visit the Boulder Senior Center and children’s homes twice a month; there, he became a cute and popular playmate and brought a lot of joy to the serious and the kids.

A funeral will be held on April 3rd, 2021, in the City Center of Boulder, and everyone is welcome to say goodbye to him. “At the funeral, Bartley will be covered with white flowers, a symbol of glory. He will live forever in our hearts,” Mr. Ronald told Animal News.

Mr. Yang gave his students a topic to talk about their ideas. Then, he grouped his students into two teams. Team A would say no to the topic, but Team B would say yes. Both the teams would share different ideas in class. Here is what they said about the topic.

Team A

1. Whether students have enough sleep is important if they want to learn better.
2. Students have enough time to enjoy their breakfast.
3. Students will be more energetic and know what to do clearly in class.
4. Whether students have a bright brain is up to when they go to school, so it's better to start school at 8:00.

Team B

1. 7:30~8:00 in the morning is a perfect time for students to take tests or study by themselves.
2. Studying in the morning makes students' brain get ready for the first class.
3. Students can make good use of their time in the morning.
4. Most parents have to get to work by 8:00, so it is convenient for them to take their kids to school before work.

Are you interested in eating eggs? How about some ant eggs? They are the latest trend in Indonesia. Some people boil them, and others put them in salads. Do you want to know if they do your body good? The answer is "Yes." Ant eggs are rich in protein and vitamins, but they are low in fat. It's said they are better than beef.

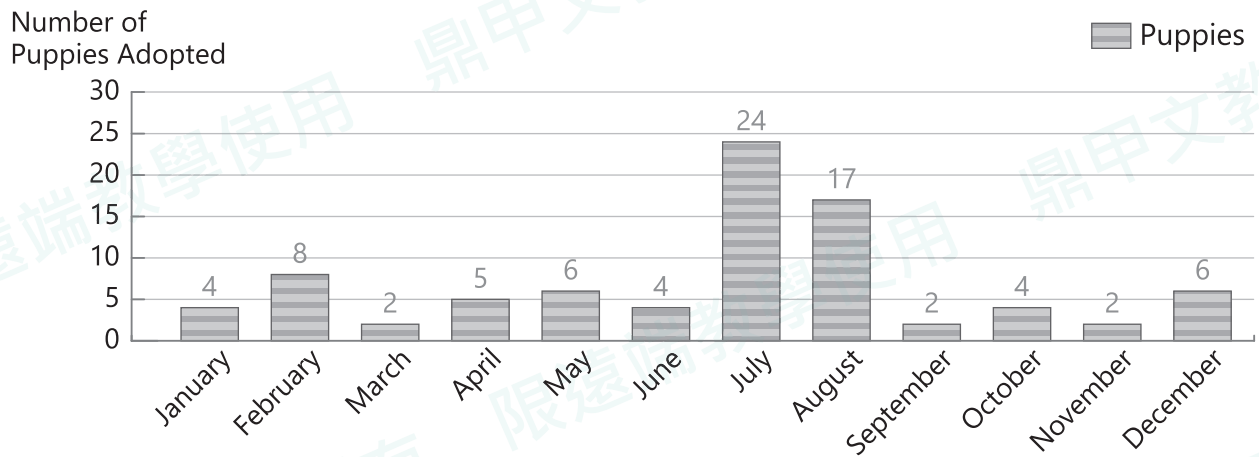

So what do ant eggs taste like? Indonesians say they taste like chicken eggs. Besides boiling, frying is another good way to prepare them.

According to the U.N., ant eggs create jobs in some countries and feed millions of hungry people in the world.

★trend 趨勢 Indonesia(n) 印尼 (人)

This is a graph to show how many puppies were adopted from the Animal Center in 2022. Look at the graph and answer the following questions.

★ graph 圖表 adopt 領養；認養

【細節】( C ) 1. How many puppies were adopted from March to May?

- (A) 2 puppies.
- (B) 8 puppies.
- (C) 13 puppies.
- (D) 6 puppies.

1. 三月到五月之間所以是 2 puppies + 5 puppies + 6 puppies = 13。

2. (A)七月認養數是 24 puppies，是最高的，可被認為是最忙碌的月分。可以根據圖表判斷出這個結論。(B)九月跟三月跟十一月都是 2 puppies 所以不是只有九月最少。(C) 6 月被扔掉的小狗很多，所以 7 月分收養的小狗最多。無法根據圖表判斷出這個結論。(D) 陌生人會在暑假出現在動物中心。無法根據圖表判斷出這個結論。

【細節】( A ) 2. Which following statement ( 以下的敘述 ) can be true?

- (A) July can be thought the busiest month by the workers in this Animal Center.
- (B) The fewest puppies were adopted in September, 2022.
- (C) Many puppies were thrown away in June, so the most puppies were adopted in July.
- (D) Strangers will show up in the Animal Center in summer vacation.

【推論】( C ) 3. How many more puppies were adopted from February to April than from October to December?

- (A) 1.
- (B) 2.
- (C) 3.
- (D) 27.

3. 二月到四月被認養的幼犬為  $8 + 2 + 5 = 15$ 。十月到十二月被認養的幼犬為  $4 + 2 + 6 = 12$ ，所以答案是  $15 - 12 = 3$ 。

Audrey Tang (Tang Feng), born as a boy named Zonghan in 1981, decided to become a woman at the age of 25. This makes her Taiwan's first transgender official. As a super smart digital minister, she is very popular because she not only successfully lets Taiwan join meetings of the United Nations digitally but also sets up a platform for Taiwanese people to talk about their ideas about the public policy. Besides, on Wednesdays, she opens her office to the public and welcomes people with great ideas for the government to have a date and discussion.

In her own book, she shares the power of sleep and her special way of time use. Every day, she always gets eight hours of sleep no matter how busy she is. Besides, she is a follower of "Pomodoro Technique," a famous way of time use, which comes from Francesco Cirillo in 1980. After working for 25 minutes, she always takes a 5-minute break. The following are the three steps of "Pomodoro Technique."

Step 1: Do not hurry to set your timer. Make sure you make your plan and to-do list first.

Step 2: Be sure to have the whole 25 minutes to do your task. Nothing can stop or bother you during that time.

Step 3: Taking a rest is very important. You should have a three to five minute break after every twenty-five minutes.

Every day, she also spends 15 minutes answering online posts as long as people mark her on Twitter or Facebook. She is so open that she can answer questions in a smart and interesting way. Every night, she checks all her e-mails and leaves nothing on her "to do" list before she goes to bed. In COVID-19, she also helped making an app that Taiwanese people could easily and conveniently know where to get face masks and even donated their masks to foreigners.

Good Thinkers Know Fingers!

Do you know your body means more than what we know?
Different parts of our body stand for different ways of saying things.
People from different countries have different images of fingers.

Take our fingers as an example. In some western countries, keeping your fingers crossed stops you from coming across the unlucky and bad spirits. Also, a person who has a green thumb or green fingers means that he or she is good at gardening and planting. Yet, too many thumbs might not be a good thing because a hand with all thumbs always does nothing but blows it!

People in Taiwan or in many parts of the world show the “V” sign shape when taking pictures, and it has something to do with “victory or peace.” However, the V sign might be an unpredictable problem while a person makes a V-shape gesture by showing his or her palm facing themselves. It is pretty rude or unfriendly for the English.

Another case that we think “OK” is a perfect and safe gesture that might make you surprised. In the US, making an “OK” gesture with your first two fingers (thumb and index) says you agree with others’ ideas. However, in Brazil, this idea will never work in practice. You will be in big trouble because it is impolite. But how do Brazilians say they agree with a hand gesture? They will give you a thumbs-up sign.

Next time, before you travel, remember the words, “When in Rome, do as the Romans do.” Try to know more about the countries’ special gestures, or using wrong gestures in wrong places will lead to a lot of trouble.

字義 ( D ) 1. What does the word unpredictable mean?

- (A) Easy to be guessed.
(B) Quickly to be moved.
(C) Usually to be believed.
(D) Hard to be expected ( 期待 ) .

1. 由前面敘述在臺灣 V 象徵意思，而後接 However 轉折語氣，來推知是「難以預測的」。

(At Mia's birthday party)

Emi: Don't tell me you didn't go to Rose Garden.

Liz: Why would I go there?

Emi: For Mia's roses, which are her favorite flowers. Don't you read the Line I left you this morning?

Liz: But you said Hank would go take them! And why did you keep me waiting outside your apartment building for half an hour?

Emi: No! I said Hank and I would come straight here from the office after work. So I asked you to help get the roses on your way here.

Liz: All we have to do is to ask Foodpanda to send them here. Now please tell me you did bring the birthday cake we ordered online for Mia.

Emi: What birthday cake? I'm sure you said nothing about it in the line.

Liz: Oh my! Not again! I told that to you last night.

(D) "I'll talk with you about the party."

Dear Mom,

The people who live in Taiwan are so strange. Can you believe that students can sleep at school? School is for studying, not for sleeping. Perhaps, that is normal here, but I am glad that students are more serious about school in Canada. And even worse, yesterday, one of my classmates who sat beside me asked me to have dinner with him. I agreed to meet him at 6 o'clock. He came at 6:30 and he didn't say sorry for being late. That's not very polite! I have been here for a month, and except something like that, I am enjoying my time here. The town where I live is near the mountains which are covered in green. Nature is so nice here, and it doesn't snow. It does get very hot in the summer, though. Also, in Canada, people get used to living in bigger spaces, but people here can live in very small apartments. It took me some time to get used to it, but now, I find my apartment very cozy. In my free time, I like to visit different places all around the island. Next week, I will go to Taroko National Park, which is one of the most popular national parks in Taiwan. It is somewhere on the eastern coast of Taiwan. I will see you back in Canada after the school year is over.

Love,
Billy
